Talk of the Town.

The Woodman Lodge at Crookston gave a dance Friday.

Mrs. Ray and Miss Pearl visited in the city the past week.

P. Sanford spent a couple of days in town this week.

Mrs. Max. Viertel was in Valentine the first part of the week.

Bonheur Bros. Golden Mascot Railroad Shows, Wednesday and Thursday, August 1 and 2.

Misses Beatrice and Josie Pavlik went to Crookston Friday morning to visit at the parental home till Sunday evening.

Several hundred of Valentine people gathered on the street Monday evening to see the soldiers go away and many stayed up until 11 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Willie Smith arrived in Valentine Tuesday from Shosone. Mr. Smith has been visiting different points in Wyoming for the passed four months.

Mr. J. P. Ninas Mr. W. E. Richer and family and Miss Dora McCarney drove out to Mr. Ninas's brother's ranch six miles west of Crookston Sunday morning.

The ladies aid of the First Presbyterian church, served a fine supper Tuesday evening on the spacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lay Porte which proved to be quite a success.

We are making a specialty of Carbon Platinos. Order the good goods and you get them. Remember that our Photos are guaranteed and that re-sittings are given when necessary. HALLDORSON. 29

The new train on the C. & N. W. put on last Sunday week was short lived, being taken off last Sunday Valentine people were sorely disappointed and hope for another day train soon to run in its place.

Chas. Allen a farmer living near Johnstown is reported to be dead. He was running a binder when without apparent cause he fell dead. It is not known whether he was sunstruck or had an attack of heart trouble.—Ainsworth Advocate.

Bonheur Bros. Golden Mascot Railroad Shows will be in Valentine, Wednesday and Thursday, August 1 and 2. A perfect fairyland for the ladies and children. Equine Lilliputians, Midget Mules, Dainty Horses, Shetland Ponies, the tiniest in all creation, all of matchless beauty and highest value. Singers, Dancers, Acrobats, and Funny Clowns, Monkeys, Goats and Dogs that do everything but talk. Two shows daily, afternoon and evening. Free outside attraction before each show.

Rev. J. W. Morgan of the Presbyterian church has been holding meetings of late in the M. E. church on Sunday evenings as a Union service because of the church being larger and to accommodate more people than his home church would hold. The church has been well filled—almost crowded and though the church would have held a few more there were good congregations. Rev. Morgan announced last Sunday evening that there would be no preaching service during the next four weeks unless from some other source during which time he will be away from town on a vacation. This leaves us with but one minister in town—Rev. Wells of the Episcopal church.

Capt. Harry Hankins the Salvation army solicitor for Rescue Homes was in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Scovel returned last Sunday from Hot Springs and are visiting in town.

The Omaha Boosters train through the efforts of the Trade extension committee of the Omaha commercial club was run through here yesterday morning, westward bound stopping for breakfast and long enough to get their first breath of fresh air since leaving Omaha Tuesday evening. Will L. Yetter was the chairman and director of the crowd and steered them for the hotels to get something to eat. There were about 130 in all and each of our three hotels were filled with hungry men who soon filled up and then proceeded to get acquainted and distribute mementos, whistles, tin horns, bells and advertising material. Our town was at once alive with cow bells and horns and the beginning of a carnival seemed to be at hand. Soon their Band came down the street calling the boosters together and in a few moments were gone like the fast flitting clouds of a hot summer day and all that remained more than a dream was the bells and tin horns on every hand, badges, mementos, advertising, etc., together with a vast crowd of people who had come together to see the men from Omaha. Mayor James Dahlman was in the crowd with the boosters and someone got him onto a horse with lasso in hand and rode around giving a few throws, catching O'Brien the candy man as he ran past, and several others. The editor of this paper met them at Woodlake and rode up with them.
